

Dear American students,
Dear host families,

Hopefully, you and your families are doing well and you can deal with the current crises. In Germany our situation is getting better and better - slowly everything starts to open again. School was very different the last couple of months, but after weeks of closed schools and online classes, four weeks ago we started to go back to school in small groups and will continue doing so until our summer break in two weeks.

To our former host families, we want to say thank you once again for the two wonderful weeks with you in York last October. It was such a great time, an experience of a lifetime and nobody of us will ever forget this. Because of you we had the chance of visiting amazing places, learn more about the American culture and make some unforgettable experiences. We always felt like a part of your family and we were able to make new friends. For us the time was flying by so fast and we would have loved to stay longer.

To our host brothers and sisters and to the rest American student group, we were really looking forward to welcome you in Germany this year and it's very sad that this is impossible right now. Our families were excited to finally meet you after hearing so many stories about our visit. There would be so many things to see and experience. For us it's a pity that we can't return what you did for us and give something back to you. Showing you the German culture and making you part of our families would have been a pleasure for us. We hope that we can stay in touch and that you can visit us next year.

Many greetings

Jonas Knerr & Jana Behrens and the rest of the student group 2019
